

Lady Bountiful by Arthur Wing Pinero

Total running time: 03:29:15

The story of Lady Bountiful is, I venture to think, human and interesting enough to offer possibilities to the novelist; whereas Mr. Pinero treated it, after his lights, in dramatic form. And he gripped the attention of his audiences, and made them laugh and made them cry, and yet Lady Bountiful cannot be described as a popular success, in London at all events. In New York its success was far greater than had been anticipated and it enjoyed quite a long career.

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.
Cover picture by Gene Carr (1916). Copyright expired in U.S. Cover design by David Purdy.
This design is in the public domain.